To Hillsdale High School Students:

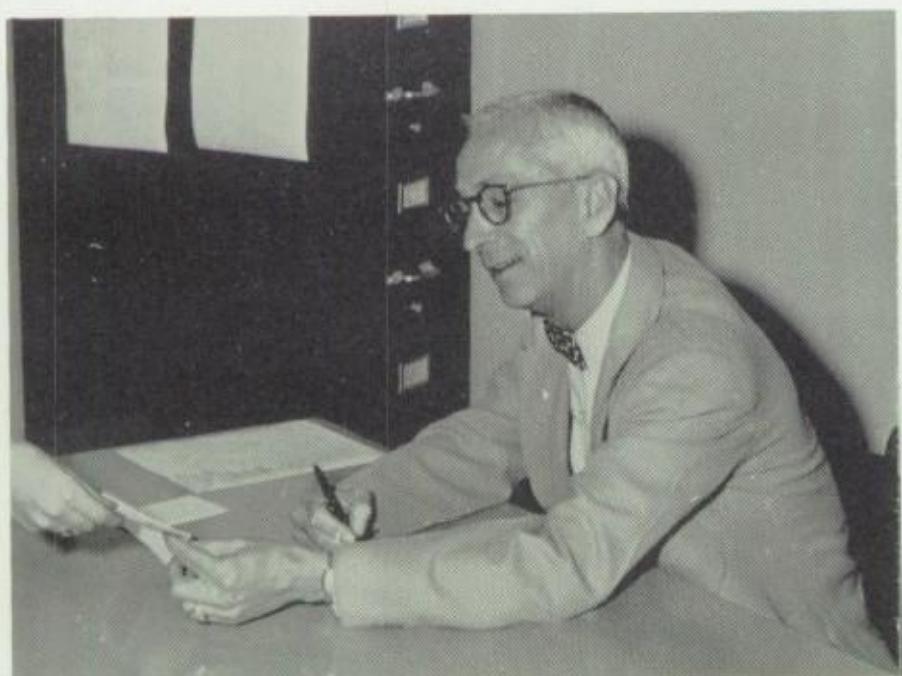

ATTITUDES

A noted educator remarked to me a number of years ago that one of the most important aspects of education was the development of good attitudes. This, I am inclined to believe, applies to your studies, to your teachers, to your fellow students, and to your school.

I am not concerned primarily with the marks you make or how much you remember, as I am with the development of the proper attitude toward your work. I would like to know that you are taking interest in your subjects and that you are acquiring a deep appreciation in certain areas of your work so that as you leave high school, you will be fired with enthusiasm to continue to learn.

Your attitudes toward your fellow students and teachers is an important phase of education. Are you a friendly, cooperative, courteous and helpful person? Do you look for the good in everyone and try to avoid being critical of any faults your teachers and fellow students might have? The development of these desirable attitudes will make school life more pleasant and will bring happiness to you. Remember that, "Happiness adds and multiplies as we divide it with others."

Student Teachers

Each year Hillsdale High School acts as a testing ground for those Hillsdale College students aspiring to become teachers. There were nineteen student teachers during the 1962-63 school year. They served in a variety of classrooms and taught a wide range of subjects. Each student teacher is required to spend sixty hours in classroom observation and sixty hours actually teaching a class. This entails a great deal of work on their part, for no less than one and one-half hours are spent in preparation for each hour spent teaching. They do it gratefully, however, because they hope to gain knowledge, self confidence, and a real understanding of how to teach.

On the Lighter Side

A small band from Jackson Jr. provided the music for the evening's festivities.

Even a few Sophomore boys managed to find dates for the affair.

Seniors were in abundance also. Here, we see Eric Peterson and Janet Miller at ease in the Common's lounge furniture.

Refreshments were punch and cookies.
At least the chaperones enjoyed them.

Decorations for the Sophomore Prom, Shangri-La

Terry plays gentleman to Pam.

Ain't he cute?

Even upperclassmen enjoy the Sophomore Prom.

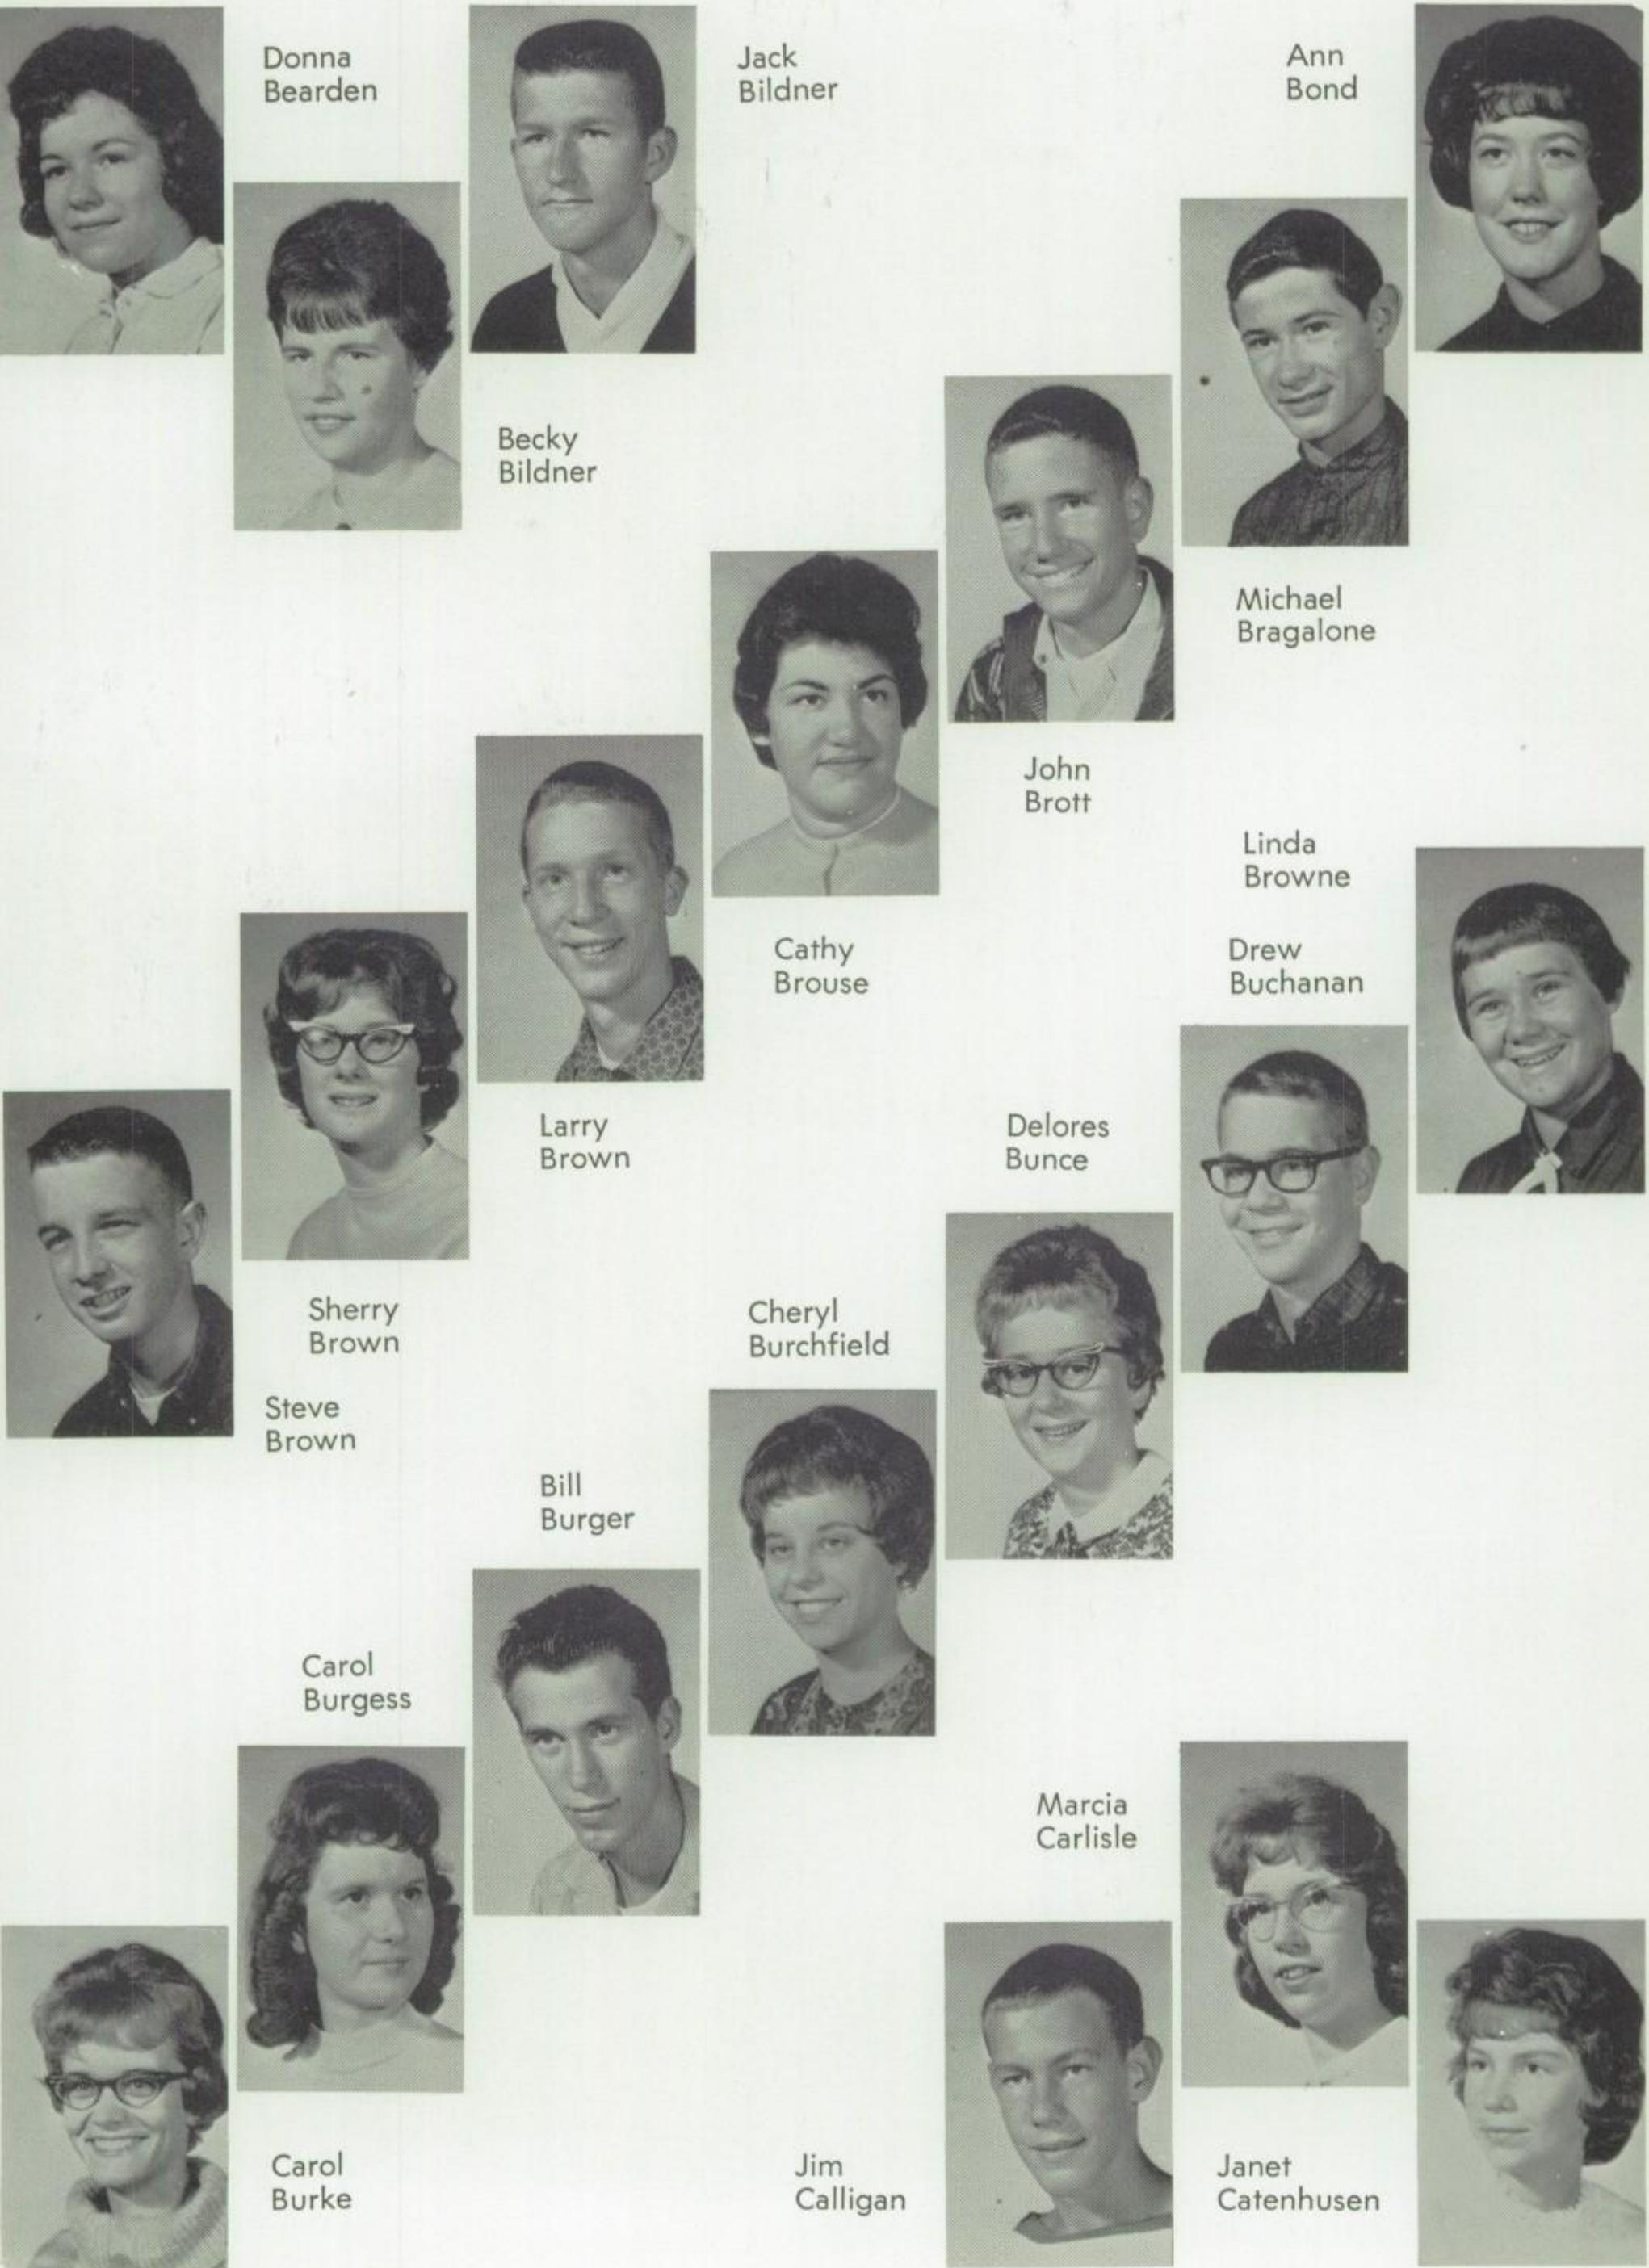

Sophomores join others in the 50-mile hike craze for a trek to Ohio and back.
